

Medtech Manufacturing 2010

Meeting the Growing Needs of Medical Technology with World Class Manufacturing Capabilities

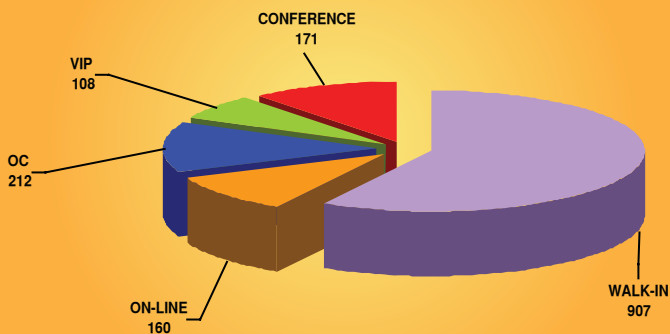

Smiles and thumbs were up at the close of the inaugural Medtech Manufacturing 2010 exhibition. More than 90% of the exhibitors were enthusiastic about their participation in the next edition of this show.

Strong support showering across the industry was vividly apparent throughout the 2-day event, while the reinforcement of partnerships, government to business (G2B) and from business to customers (B2C), was impressively seen as the industry converged to take on medtech manufacturing in its stride and steer unified to escalate this sector to a higher phase of growth.
